

LIVING FAITH FULLY IN DAILY LIFE AND WORK

Living Faith Fully in Daily Life and Work is a program series of eighteen sessions. Its overall goal is to provide participants an opportunity to step back from their busyness to become more conscious of, and more committed to, living their faith in daily life, especially in the world of work and community involvement.

This program was developed with the idea that it could be presented with minimal oversight by Heart to Heart Communications. A manual was developed for the initial presentation of this program. It was revised during and after the eighteen sessions of the program by the creators of the program: Fr. Norm Douglas, Larry Vuillemin, and Louis Trenta (ed.).

As conceived, participants are charged a fee to cover the costs of presenting the program. This includes hiring or appointing a facilitator, materials, and such other costs as incurred in providing the program. We do recommend that “scholarship” funds be made available for those not able to bear the full cost of participation. Heart to Heart Communications is prepared to assist at all stages of the program including providing videos for topics for which local presenters are not available.

While we believe the program can be well presented from the manual alone, we recognize that difference in audiences, circumstances, and comfort levels of the facilitators may require editing the contents and/or additional information. Heart to Heart Communications is open to advising and coaching teams through their development and presentation of this program in their own settings. We can be contacted through the various means noted below.

Yours in Christ,
